Pleasantly surprised by this game considering the reviews that I was reading.

As far as the actual game was concerned, its not the worst simulator I've played, but definatly not the best.

For first, the thing that I didn't like and slightly annoyed me was the fade to black, mission title, fade to game whenever I reached an area where it had to load something, once or twice sure, but it was getting really repetative.

Besides that I can't really fault this game

7/10. I really enjoyed this game . It took a little practice to get the timing of the controls . I liked the stories for the missions , liked the music . I thought the game was funny .. A poignant story about a young man Elliott who is paralysed with fear on undertaking a long journey. A place I'm sure many of us have been in. Strangely enough, I am discerning whether to do a course and am procrastinating over it!

This story is about the effects and consequences of our decisions. Very relevant to daily life. This short VN only took me 30 minutes, but well worth the time. Good dialogue and visuals. Music wasn't intrusive. I recommend this!. More of an acquired taste, very difficult and hard to progress. Good Luck.. Very fun mission. It is extremely frustrating and very challenging and after about four attempts, I still couldn't complete it. I somewhat like the twist in starting in Modern Times and having to optimistically rapidly expand your economy while being careful. The tasks you have to complete are doable, but anything can screw you up as the mission task is very fragile. I recommend it for the challenge.

I like the building in this DLC, a nice small addition.

I haven't touched any other parts of the DLC.

For the first four DLC of Tropico 5, this has probably the best challenge. I purchased this DLC for $2.40 on sale and I recommend it at that price, but at $3.99, I wouldn't purchase it. 7/10

If you have questions comment below or post in Antwog's Analysis \(Reviews\) general discussion page. If you liked it, give it a rating.. This game scratches a particular itch, which was bothering me since Stellar Impact. Simple but enjoyable. 'just one more mission' type. Some room for polishing remains, but generally a well executed and rarely visited concept. Recommended. One of the features I would REALLY love to see here is remapping controls, though.. This extra content helps you unlock the RollerSkates and the Inflatable Insoles. The RollerSkates are nice to have if you are into melee combat and like to move around fast. To become really hard to hit with the skates isn't hard if your are the smallest body type. The Inflatable Insoles help you jump to new heights and give you that extra boost when jumping. This downloadable content is good to have if you want to get ahead of the competition.

You can skip buying this and buy these items with in-game money. This just gives it to you early. I recommend it if you want to speed things up.. PLEASE ENABLE MAC VERSION THANK YOU. Well, IMO you REALLY need someone to play this with. Mic encouraged. and a good ammount of immaturity helps!

whens the other decks getting ported over?

Experimental & artistic puzzles; Every level have number of cells to rearrange into a target structure by limited several moves.

Solve your way to the final stages and you'll be filled with mental accomplishment.

+++ Graphics & Atmosphere of the game are crazy marvelous.

++ Smart level Ideas.

- The only negative point; there is little explanation on the beginnings.. Its a management game with a nice artstyle and some really dark themes, also the path towards the true ending is long and repetitive so its definetely not for everyone, but If you can look past those imperfections this is a truly nice and unique game.

Its also short (4 hours to get 20+ achievements, like 8 to repeat everything over and over again until you get the true ending) and the management side is extremely simple and honestly not that engaging, but It has its own charm that made it worthwhile, but maybe not "full price worthwhile".

Recommended but only on sale . 10/10 would eat♥♥♥♥♥♥♥ again. I played this game for one hour, so It may be good later. But, I don't have the patience. This game could be named "The errand boy simulator" because the only thing I did was to go fetch whatever anybody wanted, and even that was linear. I quit when the guy sent me to bring him some soup for lunch. Is this really necessary? Can't you start the game with something interesting?

And user interface is lacking. You should add some shortcuts for (I)nventory, (Q)uests, (E)quipement... instead of going through the menu using arrow keys every time. The same goes for guess the number mini-game. It could be simple as write number, press enter, write number... But no, it is write number, press down, press submit, press up, backspace backspase, write number...

. Creepy as hell.
